WOODS TO SPEED UP TRAFFIC ON AVENUE

Commissioner Will Test Plan of Moving Vehicles in Five Block Units.

Long Hauls to Be Discouraged by Changing the "Swing" of Travel.

A new plan for speeding traffic in Fifth avenue has been broached by THE ges to Police Commissioner Woods. It a to be identical with a scheme Mr Woods himself had in mind and he in-

The plan is to move traffic up and dow the avenue five blocks or so at a time. LAWYER VANISHES: The advantages sought are saving of time comfortable travelling. The all have to be accomplished by a semaphore device or by some method in which policemen can signal traffic as a unit for several blocks.

The idea is to stop east and west bound vehicles at five consecutive crossings, allowing vehicles on the avenue to move north and south for five blocks before Then after an interval for east and west traffic to cross the avenue would come another five block lean chicles on the avenue.

In order that the policemen at five crossings can give the same signal at the same instant a semaphore system could be installed on a short stretch of the

One Play to Be Corrected.

It is said that this system of moving tenfle in five block units has been tried in Fifth avenue after a fashion, but without success, but Commissioner Woods Such experiments as have been made with have pointed to but one flaw. This is the large amount of swing traffic-east and west bound vehicles which are seeking nerely to swing into Fifth avenue.

figures are said to have shown per cent, of the traffic reaching Fifth avenue from the cross streets is swing traffic. So great is the percentage that the early and rather inconclusive experiments with the five block system were nto great confusion. It has been thought that the intense heat of Thursday out that this element of swing raffic can be much diminished. As Progressive State committeeman from the Tenth Assembly district I wish that you would explain to me your sudden change after the mysterious visit to dyster Bay and the turning over of our party without a meeting of the State executive committee to the candidacy of Mr. Hinman. I do not believe that the Progressive party should be owned Progressive party should be owned by one man or any set of men should determine the candidate in this fashion.

Mr. Hinman was the author of the Hinman-Green direct primary bill. After three visits to Oyster Bay he comes out as a candidate, and with-in twenty-four hours Mr. Rooseveit accepts him as the candidate of the Progressive party, and you, as State chairman, immediately attempt to confirm this deal. This is not direct primaries, but the worst example of boss rule I have ever known

If such a thing were justifiable un-der any circumstances I would not regard Mr. Hinman as a proper candidate for the Progressive party for the following reasons among others: 1. He voted against the 80 cent gas bill, which was a great boon to poor people, particularly on the lower East Side, whom I represent, 2. When he was in the Senate he voted against the bill which is now a law in relation to fire escapes on tactory buildings. 3. He voted against the bill which is now a part of the tenement house law in relation to the size of rooms. He voted against the bill which now a law creating a bureau of ublic employment officers. 5. He voted against the bill relating to the bonding of immigrant

6. He voted against the bill relating to fire prevention in factories.

7. He voted against the bill which is now a law relating to the regulating of the hours of employment of women and children There are many other features connected with his career in the Legisla-ture which are not and never will be acceptable to the Progressive party.

Personally I think we should support the man who has done more to drive out graft and crookedness in New York than any other man I know. This man is Charles S. Whit-man. Because you and Mr. Roosevelt have said that he is a Barnes man. or a boss candidate does not make him so. I have canvassed my district very thoroughly and find that the great majority of Progressives there agree with me. I think that ex-Senator Beveridge of Indiana was right when he said that no one man in the Progressive party should attempt to defy the direct primary law or dictate our candidates.

Sees Big Need of Change.

"Trivial as these suggestions of reform may appear, I believe they are of the most fundamental importance. Constitutional history teaches us that where co-ordinate action of the various branches of government is made difficult or abnormal, those branches will be made to work together either by violence or corruption

"We have all seen the way the influence of the patronage of the Executive has taken the place of legitimate influhas taken the place of legitimate indu-ence in the Legislature in order to make both branches of the Government work together. Not only has the Governor used his patronage directly to force through legislation for which he is re-sponsible, but to a still greater extent patronage has been used to build up hasty machines which controlled both party machines which controlled both the Executive and the Legislature.

"A great wave of protest has now arisen against that regime—a protest both against such a misuse of the civil service and against any such demination by an unofficial party machine. But that pro-test and the reforms which it precurses cannot become effective until we remove the underlying cause which instigates and plete breakdown of our lawmaking ma

"For over a century Government in this country has been laboring under the influence of a stubborn, inconsistent tradition. We recognize in practically all of our Constitutions, State and Federal alike, that the Executive and the Logistic recognize that it is proper and necessary for the Executive to suggest laws and we usually give him a veto upon their enactment. And yet, for all these hundred years it has been the fashion and the tradition to make such cooperation as difficult, as artificial, as clumsy and as ineffective as possible.
